Wood Acres has a stellar reputation as one of the most desirable areas of Bethesda, known for attractive brick colonials lining its shady neighborhood streets. The atmosphere in Wood Acres is caring and friendly and there is a spirit of community that makes people proud to live here. The neighborhood elementary school was essentially rebuilt in 2002 and there are plans to expand further in the near future. This unique Montgomery County school has its own observatory and the park behind the school is a "Norman Rockwell" setting for children of all ages. You may have even heard about the fabulous Halloween festivities or the old-fashioned Fourth of July parade and picnic that are famous in this part of Bethesda. Owning a home in Wood Acres gives you more than just a building with some rooms in it – you get the warm feeling of belonging that comes with being part of a wonderful tradition that has been carefully nurtured by its residents for a very long time. It's an excellent place to live and you will love it!

This particular Wood Acres home will impress you with its excellent condition (a tribute to the sellers, who are only the second owner), but its best feature – a cathedral ceilinged, spectacular kitchen addition that is flooded with light and is perfect in every detail – may actually take your breath away! The adjoining family room and butler's pantry are wide open to the kitchen, resulting in a large, appealing space that will be the nucleus of your home life. Three different rooms in this exciting home benefit from added bay windows which provide those precious extra few feet that make all the difference in their functionality. Having a large, park-like corner lot that is 33% larger than the average lot in the neighborhood allows for an exceptional yard that offers a relaxing deck and two patios along with grassy play space too. A stylishly renovated bathroom on the second level is another standout feature that makes this one of the best Wood Acres homes that you will see this year! Please enjoy your visit and thank you for your interest.
