The well-maintained home pictured above is situated in the wonderful neighborhood of Glen Mar Park. This traditional collection of homes and friendly neighbors is located just off Massachusetts Avenue, convenient to the Crescent Trail, local shopping and Bethesda's well-known schools. The commute to downtown Washington, D.C., is easy and it is a very short drive to the exciting Bethesda restaurant district or only a 2-mile walk to the robust Bethesda Farmers Market. Children of all ages enjoy themselves at the Glen Mar Park playground, right in the neighborhood. Historic Glen Echo Park, the Clara Barton House, the Little Fall Library and two shopping centers are all nearby.

This cheerful home has been enhanced with various Arts & Crafts touches that give it an endearing personality. Special tiles set into the front walkway lead to the natural wood front door that features a decorative stained glass leaded window, setting the stage for the custom color palette inside. Borrowing part of the adjacent garage for a large pantry that is home to a commercial refrigerator turned the small original kitchen into a chef's delight. The kitchen has greater work space because the refrigerator has been relocated and the unit's glass doors allow for "visual cruising" of what's chilling inside. Also, its deep shelving can handle big-box store flats of beverages.

Another valuable feature of this home is the extra-large white-tiled hall bath that has been updated to include a whirlpool tub. Also adding value are the en-suite master bath and a great back yard with a large deck and a flagstone patio. Considering the replacement windows throughout the house and topnotch schools, the chance to own this distinguished brick colonial in the terrific neighborhood of Glen Mar Park is a special opportunity indeed. Enjoy your visit!
